REPORT OF MACADAM ROAD CONSTRUCTION FOR THE YEAR 1902.

The town of Harwich at its annual meeting on February 4, 1902, voted: That the Town Treasurer be authorized, with the approval of the Selectmen, to borrow the sum of $10,000, or such part thereof as shall to the Selectmen seem advisable, to be used by them in making a deal with the State Highway Commissioners to extend the State Highway from Harwichport to, or near, the Chatham line; and the balance thereof to be used by the Selectmen in macadamizing the road leading from Harwichport to Harwich depot, after a sufficient part of the said balance is used in macadamizing 500 feet of the road at Pleasant Lake, between the house lots of John H. Atkins and the late Eben Eldredge.

Agreeable to the above vote the Selectmen conferred with the State Highway Commissioners and made the following agreement :

The State Highway Commissioners agreed, on their part, to complete the State Highway from Harwichport to the Chatham line, building two miles during the year of 1902, and to complete the remainder of said macadam road to Chatham line during the year of 1903. And they further agreed to furnish, free of cost to the town of Harwich, an engineer to have charge of all macadam roads that should be built in said town during the years of 1902 and 1903. Also to furnish, free of cost to the town, (except for transportation) a steam roller to be used in the construction of the macadam roads at Harwich Center and Pleasant Lake, and to survey the road from Harwichport to Chatham line, and the roads at Harwich Center and Pleasant Lake; provided the town of Harwich would contribute the sum of $3600.

The Selectmen having agreed to the above propositions from the State Highway Commissioners, invited proposals for the construction of the Pleasant Lake and Harwich Center roads. Several bids were received, and as the bids of Uriel D. Phillips, Charles H. Taylor and David A. Eldredge were the lowest, the contract for constructing the above roads was awarded to them. After completing the 500 feet of macadam road at Pleasant Lake, and constructing the macadam road from Harwich depot to the residence of Chester Snow, it was found that the amount of money appropriated at the annual town meeting had been exhausted. The selectmen, desiring to obtain the wish of the town in relation to continuing the road to its present terminus, called a special town meeting, for the purpose of the town's making an additional appropriation to complete said road. The meeting, after listening to the report of the selectmen, voted an additional sum of $800, making the total cost of the Pleasant Lake and Harwich Center macadam roads $7,377 24.

Cost of construction is as follows :

It is found necessary to ask for slight increases in certain appropriations. The maintenance of one more school at East Harwich, the increased number of pupils transported from Pleasant Lake to Harwich Center, and the high price of fuel, all combine to increase the expenditures. However, we feel that our schools at the present time are in a satisfactory condition, and under the charge of an efficient corps of instructors.

We trust the day may come when this town will enjoy the benefits of consolidation. The immense advantages to be derived from such a course are only too apparent and fully illustrated by towns in which the system is in vogue. We should not maintain crowded, ungraded schools. The conditions at Pleasant Lake and East Harwich have been improved by the measures already alluded to.

The recent orders of the Board of Health in relation to the vaccination of all school children have been complied with, and with the exception of a few cases, have received the co-operation of parents. Each year more attention is being paid to this law in city and country schools, and there is a certain sense of security in knowing that should small pox appear in our midst there is not now much possibility of the disease spreading through the agency of the schools.

It should be a source of pride to the citizens of this town that a few of our school buildings have at least been put in an attractive condition. Funds should be appropriated to finish painting the remainder of the schoolhouses this year. It does not reflect creditably upon a town to neglect the care of its public buildings.

We ask for the hearty support and co-operation of the parents for the coming year. Visit the schools. Your presence and interest lend an inspiration to the teacher and pupils which is far reaching and beneficial.

Superintendent's Report.

To the School Committee of the Town of Harwich:

GENTLEMEN:—I herewith present my second report of the schools of your town. I hope that this, read together with the reports of the principal of the High School and the instructor in drawing, will give you a clear idea of the work done and designed, as well as the present needs of the schools.

In the twelve common schools, eighteen different teachers were employed during the year. Other things being equal it is better for the year's school work to be carried through by a single teacher, as there is a purpose running through it that demands a sympathetic understanding on the teacher's part and to acquire that more or less time is necessary. However, by a series of outlines of the work covering definite periods, the way was made as easy and intelligible to the new teachers as possible, and little time was lost.

Teachers' meetings were held nearly every month last year, and a careful study of "Herbartian Psychology Applied to Education" was made. I am sure the teachers received some good from this, as a knowledge of the child is the very foundation of methods of teaching. This year we shall study carefully the school laws of the state, and discuss actual school conditions in our town. The attendance at these meetings has been very gratifying. A district teachers' meeting was held in the High School room during the Spring term, at which meeting the Ward System of Reading was exemplified by Miss Meaney and a class of first grade pupils from Pleasant Lake, and Miss Bearse with a class from the Centre Primary room illustrated the Rational Method of Teaching Numbers. Miss Weeks of Orleans had a class in Geography from the Centre Grammar room, and several excellent papers were read. The exhibit of Drawings and other work was meritorious and showed that much hard work had been done by teachers and pupils during the year. I hope a district teachers' meeting will be held each year. It is a pleasure to record that all the teachers of the district, several of the committeemen and a few of the parents and friends of the schools were present.

Whooping cough interfered seriously with the attendance of the pupils; but I am sure that with the cooperation of the parents we might have made a better showing, notwithstanding. It is a mistake on the part of parents to permit their children to remain out of school for trifling reasons or for no reason at all. Children will set no higher value on the school than the parents themselves; and if parents permit their children to stay away from school to gratify any little whim or other, by inference the children will come to think that their parents hold the school to be of little consequence. This is wrong and parents should look to it that their children early realize the value of the school to themselves.

Early in the Fall term a list of all the pupils entering the schools was made up, and compared with the list of the census enumerator. The names of all children in town between the ages of seven and fourteen who were not in school were sent to the truant officer; and with characteristic promptness that officer placed such children in school or otherwise satisfactorily accounted for their absence.

I wish to acknowledge the kindness of the Librarian of the Public Library in an arrangement whereby the children of the East Harwich school are now enabled to derive some benefits from the library. A catalogue has been placed in the Grammar School, the children select their books, send a list to me for approval, and the books are put up and conveyed to the school by the Drawing Teacher on her bi-weekly visit. The books already out are returned by the same conveyance. The last list called for nineteen books; I hope it will be possible to extend this work through the other remote districts of the town. It is well to get into the habit of taking books from the Public Library, and to the best of my ability I shall encourage the formation of this habit among the pupils of our public schools.

The design for the cover of the Town Report will this year be made by Miss Feodore Nicholls, a pupil in the third year high. Several designs were submitted to me, equally well executed as the one chosen. But the oak leaves and acorns in Miss Nicholls' design seemed so suggestive of Harwich forests and scenery that it was selected.

Fifty-two pupils have been enrolled in the High School this term. The class room is inadequate to the seating of large classes, and unfit to be used as a recitation room, as can be easily seen by anyone who will give himself the pleasure of visiting Miss Chamberlin at her work. There is considerable physical apparatus in the school, which cannot be used to advantage for want of space. It is impossible to teach chemistry according to modern methods without a laboratory containing a sink and a table to work at. Harwich ought to have these—conveniences, I was about to say, allow me to say, instead—necessities. Is a new building an impossibility? It would reinvigorate the school as nothing else that I can suggest. The need of a classroom and laboratory is urgent.

In closing I wish to thank you for the interest you have shown in my work and for the assistance you have accorded me throughout the year.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK H. HILL,

HIGH SCHOOL REPORT.

To Supt. Frank H. Hill.

DEAR SIR: In compliance with your request, I submit the following report of the High School for the past year. The school has had a pleasant and successful year with about the usual changes and events.

At the end of the Summer term, Miss Jenny T. Aiken, the Assistant and Supervisor of Drawing, accepted a better position; and Miss Ella L. Chamberlin of Worcester was chosen to fill the vacancy.

In July, thirteen were graduated, two, Mr. Alberto E. Atkins and Miss Bethia R. Paine received four year course diplomas. Miss Paine passed a very creditable examination for the Hyannis Normal School, and is now attending that institution. Mr. G. L. Weekes is taking a fourth year of study in one of the New Haven High Schools in preparation for the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale. Miss Nickerson is teaching in Bolton, Conn. Mr. Tuttle is studying piano tuning. Mr. Clark has secured employment out of town. Four, Messrs. Atkins and Cahoon and Misses Bearse and Small, are at home, or employed in Harwich; and four, Misses Chase, Doane, Megathlin and Weekes, have returned to school for another year's study.

The changed courses of study which were adopted last year have been followed with the two lower classes. The number of four year course students has more than doubled since the adoption of the new courses. There are just as many who take the four years with the Latin as before; while a large number seem to appreciate the course of four years with the French as the only foreign language. There is also a three year course which requires no foreign language after the first year. All pupils are required to choose their course of study at the end of their first year in school.

The whooping cough which afflicted a large number of the scholars last winter and spring, has made the record of attendance much poorer than usual. Besides this the large number of pupils, living a long distance from the school, tended to increase the number of excusable absences.

This year the entering class is large, and it has increased the number of scholars so that the recitation room for the assistant is not very satisfactory. It is not large enough, light enough, neither has it enough blackboard surface, nor good facilities for ventilating and heating.

Rev. Rufus B. Tobey offered last year a prize for the best essay on the subject: "The Man with the Branded Hand." The first prize, five dollars in gold, was awarded to Miss Mabel Weekes; and second prizes, two and a half dollars in gold, were awarded to Misses Bethia R. Paine and Sadie B. Doane.

Mr. Sidney B. Moody has presented the school with a portrait of the late Sidney Brooks, Esq., the founder of Pine Grove Seminary.

Respectfully submitted,

HERMAN N. KNOX, Principal.

DEPARTMENT OF DRAWING.

To the Superintendent of Schools, Mr. F. H. Hill:

In teaching drawing in the Public Schools we strive for the æsthetic development of every child. To stimulate in him the love for the beautiful both in nature and art. To lead him to discriminate between the good and bad. To arouse in him a desire to discard the ugly in whatever form it may appear to him, whether in picture, story or character, and to arouse a love for, and desire to possess for himself, the beautiful. In short to lead every child to higher culture.

A second aim is that drawing may become a means of expression, a language by which the pupil may express quickly and accurately his own ideas, or record his observations.

The work in drawing may for convenience, be divided into the following general topics: Pictorial drawing, nature drawing, structural drawing, color and decorative drawing.

Pictorial drawing includes the representation of objects and groups of objects, natural or artificial; landscape composition, and the study of good pictures.

The aim of pictorial drawing is to develop the power of observation, to give skill in representation and arrangement.

Nature drawing—By the use of plant and animal forms we endeavor to lead the child to appreciate the beauty of form and color, to form a correct mental image, and to acquire some skill in reproducing that image.

Structural drawing comprises the study and representation of beautiful forms in nature and art. The foundation of all structural design is geometry, therefore geometry is studied. The type solids are studied and working drawings of these and other objects made.

Color—Under this topic comes the recognition and naming of the six standard colors. The tints, shades and hues are then studied, and the color harmonies considered by the older pupils.

The aim of this work is to lead the children to appreciate the finer color combinations and to teach them to apply this knowledge to their work in design.

Decorative drawing—By this branch of the subject we mean design—the arrangement of forms and colors according to the principles which underlie all good decoration, balance, rhythm, harmony of line and color, and appropriateness.

All schools are visited once in two weeks. A lesson is given upon every visit of the supervisor, and outlines are furnished to the teachers so that they are able to carry on the work as planned.

I should like to express my satisfaction at the interest shown by the teachers, also at the readiness with which they carry out all suggestions.

A drawing lesson is given in the High School every week. The time is divided between the freehand and the mechanical drawing.

Respectfully submitted,

ELLA L. CHAMBERLIN.
